Team Week Clinics

The Waterford Soccer Club and Connecticut Coast Soccer has recently expanded it's reach to involve specialized high school programs across southeastern Connecticut. Team Week is a tremendous opportunity for high school soccer players to prepare for their upcoming high school season. It will incorporate all of the aspects of high school preseason training; including technical and tactical instruction, small-sided games, full-sided matches, goalkeeper training and conditioning. Players will do technical work under pressure and proper tactical decision making is taught in both training and match play conditions. Team Week is recommended for players entering 7th-12th grade.

The Program

Technical Training: The technical development of our players is included in each field session. Players will be exposed to advanced techniques for shooting, dribbling, receiving, turning, heading, and more. We will take players through each step of the techniques to ensure proper development and execution.

Tactical Training: Tactical training is featured in our sessions when the players are grouped into their teams. We will help organize your team into an effective system of play and teach your players their roles within that system. Topics covered include principles of attack and defense, switching fields, overlapping, and organizing the box. Teams will get to test what they have learned in the evening full-sided matches.

Goalkeeper Sessions: A specialized goalkeeper session is held in conjunction with High School Team Week. Goalkeepers will receive separate instruction from the field players led by qualified coaches. Proper technique for diving, boxing, parrying, and distribution is emphasized.
